Benzema Passing Through Dry Spell at Al-Ittihad

French striker Karim Benzema has acknowledged that he is going through a difficult period at his current club, Al-Ittihad, in Saudi Arabia. In an interview with Asharq Al-Awsat, Benzema admitted that he is not performing at the level he was at during his time at Real Madrid, citing differences in playing style and team dynamics as the reason for his struggles.

Benzema joined Al-Ittihad in July 2024, after a successful 14-year stint at Real Madrid. He has since appeared in 30 games for the Saudi club, scoring 15 goals. However, his last goal was in a game against Al-Ahly on December 15th, and he has gone eight games without scoring since then, despite providing four assists during that time.

The 32-year-old striker is under contract with Al-Ittihad until 2026, and he acknowledges that he needs help on the field in order to get back to his best form. He also recognizes that he cannot win games on his own and is seeking support from his teammates.

Despite their star player's struggles, Al-Ittihad currently sits in fourth place in the Saudi Pro League table, 30 points behind leaders Al-Hilal.

Benzema's dry spell has sparked debate among fans and pundits alike, with some questioning his transfer to Saudi Arabia and others calling for patience and support for the struggling striker. In conclusion, while Benzema's time at Al-Ittihad has not been as prolific as his time at Real Madrid, he remains a talented player with the potential to make a positive impact on the team's fortunes. With the support of his teammates and a bit of luck, he may yet turn his dry spell around and flourish in the Saudi Pro League.
