Card game

"Poker player" redirects here. For the magazine, see Poker Player

A game of Texas hold 'em in progress. "Hold 'em" is a popular form of poker.

Poker is a family of comparing card games in which players wager over which hand is best according to that specific game's rules. It is played worldwide, but in some places the rules may vary. While the earliest known form of the game was played with just 20 cards, today it is usually played with a standard deck, although in countries where short packs are common, it may be played with 32, 40 or 48 cards.[1] Thus poker games vary in deck configuration, the number of cards in play, the number dealt face up or face down, and the number shared by all players, but all have rules that involve one or more rounds of betting.

In most modern poker games, the first round of betting begins with one or more of the players making some form of a forced bet (the blind or ante). In standard poker, each player bets according to the rank they believe their hand is worth as compared to the other players. The action then proceeds clockwise as each player in turn must either match (or "call") the maximum previous bet, or fold, losing the amount bet so far and all further involvement in the hand. A player who matches a bet may also "raise" (increase) the bet. The betting round ends when all players have either called the last bet or folded. If all but one player folds on any round, the remaining player collects the pot without being required to reveal their hand. If more than one player remains in contention after the final betting round, a showdown takes place where the hands are revealed, and the player with the winning hand takes the pot.

With the exception of initial forced bets, money is only placed into the pot voluntarily by a player who either believes the bet has a positive expected value or who is trying to bluff other players for various strategic reasons. Thus, while the outcome of any particular hand significantly involves chance, the long-run expectations of the players are determined by their actions chosen on the basis of probability, psychology, and game theory.

Poker has increased in popularity since the beginning of the 20th century and has gone from being primarily a recreational activity confined to small groups of enthusiasts to a widely popular activity, both for participants and spectators, including online, with many professional players and multimillion-dollar tournament prizes.[2]

History [edit]

While poker's exact origin is the subject of debate, many game scholars point to the French game

Poque and the Persian game As-Nas as possible early inspirations.[3] For example, in the 1937 edition of Foster's Complete Hoyle, R. F. Foster wrote that "the game of poker, as first played in the United States, five cards to each player from a twenty-card pack, is undoubtedly the Persian game of As-Nas." However, in the 1990s the notion that poker is a direct derivative of As-Nas began to be challenged by gaming historians including David Parlett. What is certain, however, is that poker was popularized in the American South in the early 19th century, as gambling riverboats in the Mississippi River and around New Orleans during the 1830s helped spread the game. One early description of poker was played on a steamboat in 1829 is recorded by the English actor, Joe Cowell. The game was played with twenty cards ranking from Ace (high) to Ten (low).[4]

In contrast to this version of poker, seven-card stud only appeared in the middle of the 19th century, and was largely spread by the US military.[5] It became a staple in many casinos following the second world war, and grew in popularity with the advent of the World Series of Poker in the 1970s.[6]

Texas hold 'em and other community card games began to dominate the gambling scenes over the next couple of decades. The televising of poker was a particularly strong influence increasing the popularity of the game during the turn of the millennium, resulting in the poker boom a few years later between 2003 and 2006. Today the game has grown to become an extremely popular pastime worldwide.

Further information on betting rules: Betting in poker

In casual play, the right to deal a hand typically rotates among the players and is marked by a token called a dealer button (or buck). In a casino, a house dealer handles the cards for each hand, but the button (typically a white plastic disk) is rotated clockwise among the players to indicate a nominal dealer to determine the order of betting. The cards are dealt clockwise around the poker table, one at a time.

One or more players are usually required to make forced bets, usually either an ante or a blind bet (sometimes both). The dealer shuffles the cards, the player on the chair to their right cuts, and the dealer deals the appropriate number of cards to the players one at a time, beginning with the player to their left. Cards may be dealt either face-up or face-down, depending on the variant of poker being played. After the initial deal, the first of what may be several betting rounds begins. Between rounds, the players' hands develop in some way, often by being dealt additional cards or replacing cards previously dealt. At the end of each round, all bets are gathered into the central pot.

At any time during a betting round, if one player bets, no opponents choose to call (match) the bet, and all opponents instead fold, the hand ends immediately, the bettor is awarded the pot, no cards are required to be shown, and the next hand begins. This is what makes bluffing possible. Bluffing is a primary feature of poker, distinguishing it from other vying games and from other games that use poker hand rankings.

At the end of the last betting round, if more than one player remains, there is a showdown, in which the players reveal their previously hidden cards and evaluate their hands. The player with the best hand according to the poker variant being played wins the pot. A poker hand comprises five cards; in variants where a player has more than five cards available to them, only the best five-card combination counts. There are 10 different kinds of poker hands, such as straight flush and four of a kind.

Variants [edit]

2006 WSOP Main Event table

Poker has many variations,[7][8] all following a similar pattern of play[9] and generally using the same hand ranking hierarchy. There are four main families of variants, largely grouped by the protocol of card-dealing and betting:

Straight A complete hand is dealt to each player, and players bet in one round, with raising and re-raising allowed. This is the oldest poker family; the root of the game as now played was a game known as Primero, which evolved into the game three-card brag, a very popular gentleman's game around the time of the American Revolutionary War and still enjoyed in the U.K. today. Straight hands of five cards are sometimes used as a final showdown, but poker is almost always played in a more complex form to allow for additional strategy. Stud poker Cards are dealt in a prearranged combination of face-down and face-up rounds, or streets, with a round of betting following each. This is the next-oldest family; as poker progressed from three to five-card hands, they were often dealt one card at a time, either face-down or face-up, with a betting round between each. The most popular stud variant today, seven-card stud, deals two extra cards to each player (three face-down, four face-up) from which they must make the best possible 5-card hand.

Draw poker Five-card draw: A complete hand is dealt to each player, face-down. Then each player must place an ante to the pot. They can then see their cards and bet accordingly. After betting, players can discard up to three cards and take new ones from the top of the deck. Then, another round of betting takes place. Finally, each player must show their cards and the player with the best hand wins.

Community card poker Also known as "flop poker," community card poker is a variation of stud poker. Players are dealt an incomplete hand of face-down cards, and then a number of face-up community cards are dealt to the center of the table, each of which can be used by one or more of the players to make a 5-card hand. Texas hold 'em and Omaha are two well-known variants of the community card family.

There are several methods for defining the structure of betting during a hand of poker. The three most common structures are known as "fixed-limit," "pot-limit," and "no-limit." In fixed-limit poker, betting and raising must be done by standardized amounts. For instance, if the required bet is X, an initial bettor may only bet X; if a player wishes to raise a bet, they may only raise by X. In pot-limit poker, a player may bet or raise any amount up to the size of the pot. When calculating the maximum raise allowed, all previous bets and calls, including the intending raiser's call, are first added to the pot. The raiser may then raise the previous bet by the full amount of the pot. In no-limit poker, a player may wager their entire betting stack at any point that they are allowed to make a bet. In all games, if a player does not have enough betting chips to fully match a bet, they may go "all-in," allowing them to show down their hand for the number of chips they have remaining. While typical poker games award the pot to the highest hand as per the standard ranking of poker hands, there are variations where the best hand, and thus the hand awarded the pot, is the lowest-ranked hand instead. In such games the best hand contains the lowest cards rather than the highest cards; some variations may be further complicated by whether or not hands such as flushes and straights are considered in the hand rankings. There are also games where the highest and lowest hands divide the pot between them, known as "high low split" games.

Other games that use poker hand rankings may likewise be referred to as poker. Video poker is a single-player video game that functions much like a slot machine; most video poker machines play draw poker, where the player bets, a hand is dealt, and the player can discard and replace cards. Payout is dependent on the hand resulting after the draw and the player's initial bet.

Strip poker is a traditional poker variation where players remove clothing when they lose bets. Since it depends only on the basic mechanic of betting in rounds, strip poker can be played with any form of poker; however, it is usually based on simple variants with few betting rounds, like five card draw.

Another game with the poker name, but with a vastly different mode of play, is called Acey-Deucey or Red Dog poker. This game is more similar to Blackjack in its layout and betting; each player bets against the house, and then is dealt two cards. For the player to win, the third card dealt (after an opportunity to raise the bet) must have a value in-between the first two. Payout is based on the odds that this is possible, based on the difference in values of the first two cards. Other poker-like games played at casinos against the house include three card poker and pai gow poker.

Computer programs [edit]

A variety of computer poker players have been developed by researchers at the University of Alberta, Carnegie Mellon University, and the University of Auckland amongst others.

In a January 2024 article^[10] published in Science, a group of researchers mostly from the University of Alberta announced that they "essentially weakly solved" heads-up limit Texas Hold 'em with their development of their Cepheus poker bot. The authors claimed that Cepheus would lose at most 0.001 big blinds per game on average against its worst-case opponent, and the strategy is thus so "close to optimal" that "it can't be beaten with statistical significance within a lifetime of human poker playing."^[11]

In fact, the value 16 is said to be the worst hand one can have in blackjack. Since sixteen of the other fifty cards have a value of 10 and four have a value of 11, there is a strong chance of getting at least an 18 with either or both split cards. A hand totaling 18 or 19 is much stronger than having a 16.

While luck certainly does have a part to play in Blackjack, there is a lot of skill that goes into playing the game. How much skill or strategy you use depends on the time and effort you are willing to put into learning these skills. One such skill is card counting-not like by casinos but certainly not illegal.

É final do verão há 2.850 anos. Um incêndio envolve uma aldeia empoleirada situada acima de um rio peludo e lento que tece através das zonas úmidas da Inglaterra Oriental, as casas redondamente compactadas construídas a partir dos bosque... palha... gramados (terra) nove meses antes sobem às chamas!

Os habitantes fogem, deixando para trás todos os seus pertences. Incluindo uma colher de madeira codigo promocional mr jack bet um recipiente com mingau meio consumido não há tempo suficiente pra resgatar as ovelhas gordadas que estão presas e queimada vivo!

A cena é um instantâneo vívido e pungente, capturado por arqueólogos de uma comunidade outrora próspera no final da Idade do Bronze na Grã-Bretanha conhecida como Must Farm (Farm Most), perto que hoje se tornou a cidade codigo promocional mr jack bet Peterborough.A equipe publicou nesta quarta feira (19) duas monografia com dois volumes descrevendo codigo promocional mr jack bet meticulosa escavação para análise dos locais localizados ao redor o condado Cambridgeshire (1 milhão).

Descrito pelos especialistas envolvidos como um "nirvana arqueológico", o site é a única na Grã-Bretanha que faz jus à premissa Pompeii, dizem eles.

"Em um local típico da Idade do Bronze, se você tem uma casa provavelmente já teve talvez dezenas de buracos no chão e eles são apenas sombras escuras onde antes estava. Se tiver muita sorte obterá alguns fragmentos de cerâmicas ou mesmo algum buraco com ossos animais - foi o oposto completo desse processo", disse Chris Wakefield na Universidade Arqueológica Cambridge 2024.

"Todas as marcas de machado foram usadas para moldar e esculpturar a madeira. Todos pareciam frescos, como se pudessem ter sido feitos na semana passada por alguém", acrescentou Wakefield".

A condição notavelmente preservada do local e seu conteúdo permitiu que a equipe arqueológica desenhasse novos insights abrangentes sobre o mundo da Idade de Bronze - descobertas capazes para reverter as atuais percepções como era na Grã-Bretanha durante os anos nono século antes d.C

A domesticação da agricultura - e um mistério

O local, que data de oito séculos antes da chegada dos romanos à Grã-Bretanha, revelou quatro casas redondas e uma estrutura quadrada na entrada do rio com cercado por um muro a 6 metros.

Os arqueólogos acreditam que o assentamento era provavelmente duas vezes maior. No entanto, a pedreira no século 20 destruiu quaisquer outros restos mortais".

Embora carbonizados do fogo, os edifícios restantes e seu conteúdo foram extremamente bem preservados pelas condições de fumaça oxigenada dos fens ou zonas úmidamente húmidas (terra), incluindo muitos itens têxteis que raramente sobrevivem no registro arqueológico. Juntos traços da colônia pintam uma imagem aconchegante de domesticação com abundância relativa; Os pesquisadores desenterraram 128 artefatos cerâmicos - frasco, tigela e panela de vidro – que foram capazes para inferir 64 potênciômetros estavam em uso no momento do incêndio. A equipe encontrou alguns vasos armazenados perfeitamente aninhados tecidos encontrados na área feita com linho tinham uma sensação suave à veludo por costura ou bainha pura embora não fosse possível identificar peças individuais da roupa; Artefatos de madeira incluíam caixas e tigelas esculpidas com salgueiro, amieiro ou bordo; 40 bobinados com fios ainda presos.

"Um desses baldes... no fundo dele estavam cargas e muitas marcas de corte, então sabemos que as pessoas vivendo naquela cozinha da Idade do Bronze quando precisavam uma tábua improvisada para cortar o lixo simplesmente viravam aquele recipiente ao contrário disso", disse Wakefield.

"São aqueles pequenos momentos que se constroem juntos para dar uma imagem mais rica e completa do que estava acontecendo."

As circunstâncias do evento que pararam tudo ainda são um mistério. Os pesquisadores acreditam o incêndio ocorreu no final de verão ou início da primavera, porque restos esqueléticos dos cordeiros mantidos por uma família mostrou os animais? tipicamente nascidos na Primavera - tinham três meses a seis meses velhos

No entanto, o que exatamente causou o incêndio devastador permanece incerto. O fogo poderia ter sido acidental ou deliberadamente iniciado? Os pesquisadores descobriram uma pilha de lança com eixos acima dos 3 metros no local e muitos especialistas pensam que guerra era comum durante esse período... A equipe trabalhou com um investigador forense do corpo humano mas não conseguiu identificar nenhuma pista específica para apontar as causas da arma fumegante!

"Um sítio arqueológico é muito parecido com um quebra-cabeça. Em uma área típica, você tem 10 ou 20 peças de 500", disse Wakefield. "Aqui tínhamos 250 e 300 pedaços que ainda não conseguimos obter a imagem completa sobre como esse grande incêndio irrompeu".

Mike Parker Pearson, professor de pré-história britânica no Instituto Britânico do University College London descreveu o relatório e a página como "excepcionais".

Ele não estava envolvido na pesquisa.

"O incêndio pode ter sido desastroso para os habitantes, mas é uma bênção aos arqueólogos", disse ele por e-mail.

O conteúdo das quatro casas preservadas era "notavelmente consistente". Cada uma tinha um kit de ferramentas que incluía foices, machados e gouge e navalha usada para cortar cabelo ou pano. Com quase 50 metros quadrados (50 pés²) do espaço no maior andar da casa cada moradia parecia ter zonas distintas comparáveis às salas código promocional mr jack bet código promocional mr jack bet residência moderna com atividades diferentes dos quartos mais antigos na época anterior à construção civil atual;

"Ao traçar as posições de todos esses achados - potes, pesos-pesados e até mesmo excrementos ovinos a equipe arqueológica reconstruiu os usos internos do espaço das casas", observou Parker Pearson. "A área da cozinha estava no leste; A zona para armazenamento ou tecelagem ao sul/ sudeste com uma superfície penteada destinada aos cordeiros (ovelhas) – mas não sabemos onde ficava essa porta código promocional mr jack bet cada casa."

Nem todos os itens eram de uso prático, como 49 contas código promocional mr jack bet vidro e outros feitos com âmbar. Os arqueólogos também desenterraram o crânio da mulher suave do toque; possivelmente uma lembrança dos perdidos queridos que eles encontraram: alguns deles serão exibidos a partir 27 abril numa exposição intitulada "Introdução à Fazenda Must Farm - um assentamento na Idade Do Bronze" no Museu Peterborough and Art Gallery (Museu Pedro).

A análise laboratorial dos restos biológicos revelou os tipos de alimentos que a comunidade consumiu uma vez. Uma tigela impressa com as marcas do seu fabricante realizou um prato final - mingau misturado à gordura animal, e análises químicas das taças mostraram vestígios da carne junto aos veados sugerindo às pessoas quem usaram o alimento podem ter gostado muito desse veneno glamado pelo mel!

Excrementos antigos encontrados código promocional mr jack bet pilhas de resíduos abaixo onde as casas teriam ficado mostraram que a comunidade mantinha cães alimentados com restos das refeições dos seus proprietários. E o cocô fossilado humano, ou coprólitos (coprolite), mostrou pelo menos alguns habitantes sofriam por vermes intestinais

As pilhas de resíduos, ou middens (em meio a essas estacas), eram uma linha que mostrava quanto tempo o local estava ocupado e com um pequeno pedaço sugerindo para construirmos os assentamentos nove meses antes do ano código promocional mr jack bet chamás. Dois outros fatores apoiaram essa linhagem raciocinante", disse Wakefield à Reuters

"A segunda foi que grande parte da madeira usada na construção não estava temperada, ainda era efetivamente verde e pouco tempo de uso", disse ele.

"O terceiro é que temos uma falta do tipo de insetos e animais associados à habitação humana. Não demoraria muito para os besouro se vermes (em)... mas não há evidências disso código promocional mr jack bet nenhuma das mais 18,000 madeira".

O fato de que o site, com seu conteúdo rico e variado estava código promocional mr jack bet uso por apenas um ano reverteu as "visões preconcebidas da vida cotidiana" no século IX aC. E pode sugerir uma sociedade talvez menos hierárquica do que se pensava tradicionalmente na Idade Do Bronze (ver mais adiante).

"Estamos vendo aqui não a acumulação de uma vida inteira, mas apenas um ano inteiro código promocional mr jack bet materiais", observaram os autores no relatório. "Isso sugere que artefatos como ferramentas bronze e contas eram mais comuns do que nós imaginamos com frequência E código promocional mr jack bet disponibilidade pode na verdade ter sido restrita."
