The Rules of Online Poker

At our site you'll find all the world's most popular poker games, including Texas Hold'em, Omaha and many more.

How Do You Win?

Typically, the winner of each hand of poker is the player that holds the highest ranked hand when all cards are shown at the end of the hand –known as the 'showdown' – or the player that makes the last uncalled bet, thus winning without needing to reach a showdown. Not sure whether a flush beats a straight? Can't remember how to make a full house? You can find all the information you need to know about hand rankings in the table below (click here for more). The strongest hands are in the top row, running from left to right, with the weakest possible hand being simply a high card.

Getting

Started

Poker games typically feature a forced bet, such as the Big Blind and Small Blind in Hold'em and Omaha. These forced bets comprise the starting pot in any given hand of poker, which is the first incentive players have to win the hand. Action arising from the subsequent rounds of betting further increases the size of the pot.

Dealing Cards and Betting Rounds

After any initial cards are dealt, players are usually called upon to act in turn, moving clockwise around the table. Each player can usually take one of the following actions when it is their turn to act:

Check – To

check is to decline the opportunity to open the betting. Players can only check when there is no bet during the current round, and the act of checking passes the action clockwise to the next person in the hand. If all active players check, those players remain in the hand and the round is considered complete.

– To check is to decline the opportunity to open the betting. Players can only check when there is no bet during the current round, and the act of checking passes the action clockwise to the next person in the hand. If all active players check, those players remain in the hand and the round is considered complete.

Bet – Players may bet if no other players have bet during the current round. Once a bet has been made, other players must ‘call’ by matching the amount bet, in order to remain in the hand.

– Players may bet if no other players have bet during the current round. Once a bet has been made, other players must ‘call’ by matching the amount bet, in order to remain in the hand.

Fold – Players who fold forfeit their cards and cannot win or act again during the current hand.

– Players who fold forfeit their cards and cannot win or act again during the current hand.

Call –

Players can call if other players have bet during the current round; this requires the calling player to match the highest bet made.

– Players can call if other players have bet during the current round; this requires the calling player to match the highest bet made. Raise – Players may raise if other players have bet during the current round; this requires the raising player to match the highest bet made, and then make a greater one. All subsequent players are required to call the raise or raise again (‘re-raise’) to stay in the hand.

Different variants of poker have different betting rounds. Texas

Hold’em and Omaha are the two most popular poker games in the world and have identical betting structures, with four rounds of betting known as pre-flop, the flop, the turn and the river. The pre-flop betting round begins as soon as all players have received their hole cards, before any community cards have been dealt; betting on the flop occurs after the first three community cards are dealt; on the turn after the fourth community card; and on the river after the fifth and final community card. On each betting round, betting continues until every player has either matched the bets made or folded (if no bets are made, the round is complete when every player has checked). When the betting round is completed, the next dealing/betting round begins, or the hand is complete. Here’s an example of a Texas Hold’em hand after all the cards have been dealt. As you can see, players may use any of their two hole cards with any of the five community cards to make the best five-card hand they can make - in this case, you can use both your hole cards and three of the shared community cards to make a straight.

Showdown

Once the last bet or raise has been called during the final round of betting, a showdown occurs;

the remaining active players must show or ‘declare’ their hands, and the player(s) with the best ranking hand(s) win the pot. Players often show their hands in order, rather than all at the same time. Multiple players can share a single pot, with the pot divided in different ways depending on the game rules and how each player’s hand ranks against their opponents.

Betting Limits

Betting limits refer to the amount players may open and raise. Typically, poker games are of the following types; no limit, pot limit or fixed limit.

No Limit – in poker games with a no limit betting structure, each player can bet or raise by any amount up to and including their full stack (the total number of chips they possess at any given time) in any betting round, whenever it is their turn to act.

Pot Limit – in poker games with a pot limit betting structure, each player can bet or raise by any amount up to and including the size of the total pot at that time.

Fixed Limit – in poker games with a fixed limit betting structure, each player can choose to call, bet or raise, but only by a fixed amount. The fixed amount for any given betting round is set in advance.

For No Limit and Pot Limit games, the 'Stakes' column in the PokerStars lobby indicates the Small Blind and Big Blind in that game, while for Mixed Games, the Stakes listed in the lobby are the betting amounts for Limit games; in Pot Limit and No Limit rounds, the blinds are usually half of the blinds in limit games.

Mexicanos huyen a Guatemala para escapar de la violencia del crimen organizado en Chiapas

El estado mexicano de Chiapas solía ser un refugio para los guatemaltecos que huían del genocidio en su país, pero esta relación histórica se ha invertido recientemente, con cientos de mexicanos que cruzan la frontera para escapar de la tiranía violenta de los grupos de crimen organizado.

Comunidades enteras se vaciaron la semana pasada cuando más de 500 hombres, mujeres, niños y ancianos huyeron con lo que podían cargar y caminaron hacia Guatemala, citando escasez de alimentos y conflictos entre grupos criminales que presionan cada vez más cerca de sus hogares.

Una refugiada, una mujer de 93 años, murió poco después de llegar a Guatemala.

Las autoridades guatemaltecas han emitido a los refugiados visados humanitarios temporales mientras los dos gobiernos trabajan para devolverlos a México.

Los refugiados son las últimas víctimas de la creciente inseguridad en un estado que ha empeorado posiblemente más que cualquier otro desde que el presidente Andrés Manuel López Obrador asumió el poder en 2024.

Chiapas: de refugio a refugiado

Chiapas solía ser una parte relativamente segura de México, conocida por sus ciudades coloniales y ruinas arqueológicas, así como por la insurrección zapatista de 1994 que se convirtió en un símbolo de los derechos indígenas y la resistencia a la globalización.

Eso comenzó a cambiar hace aproximadamente tres años, y la situación ha empeorado drásticamente en el último año, ya que varios grupos de crimen organizado luchan por el control.

"Estamos viendo enfrentamientos con armas pesadas, vehículos blindados y hasta drones armados", dijo un defensor local de derechos humanos que prefirió permanecer en el anonimato por razones de seguridad. "Durante estas batallas han cortado la electricidad y las comunicaciones, y los servicios de salud y educación han sido suspendidos".

Además de ejecuciones y desapariciones forzadas, los periodistas locales han documentado comunidades que montan bloqueos o incluso se unen a grupos de crimen organizado.

"La gente vive en un terror, miedo, ansiedad constantes", dijo el defensor de derechos humanos. "Es una crisis humanitaria, de un tipo que no vimos ni siquiera cuando los zapatistas montaron una insurrección armada contra el gobierno mexicano. La población civil ha sido tomada como rehén".

Según un informe, alrededor de 17,000 personas fueron desplazadas por la fuerza en Chiapas entre 2010 y 2024, con una aceleración dramática hacia el presente.

Pequeños grupos habían migrado a Guatemala, pero la exodus masiva de la semana pasada fue sin precedentes.

"No hemos visto nada a esta escala en los últimos años", dijo Parker Asmann de Insight Crime.

"Y creo que eso habla de lo severo que se ha vuelto el conflicto y de la falta total de fe que las comunidades locales tienen en las autoridades mexicanas para garantizar su seguridad".

Un estado en crisis

En un nivel, el conflicto en Chiapas refleja la lucha de poder continua entre el Cártel de Sinaloa y el Cartel Jalisco Nueva Generación, los dos grupos de crimen organizado más poderosos de México, que luchan por controlar territorio y negocios en todo el país.

Chiapas es un punto de tránsito clave para los envíos de cocaína y migrantes que viajan a Estados Unidos. Los grupos criminales también han establecido extorsiones, cobrando a la población local.

Pero el conflicto entre estos grupos también ha involucrado y exacerbado tensiones existentes en una región con una historia de violencia sobre el acceso a la tierra.

Los zapatistas, que nunca depositaron sus armas, han tratado de resistir la incursión del crimen organizado, mientras que otras comunidades han establecido escuadrones de autodefensa y una ciudad indígena, San Juan Chamula, creó su propia mafia, todo lo cual contribuye a la proliferación de actores armados.

"Hay muchas cosas sucediendo a la vez: conflictos de tierras de larga data, vínculos entre funcionarios y el crimen organizado, y una multitud de actores tratando de aprovechar las oportunidades económicas en el estado", dijo Asmann. "Es extraordinariamente complejo".
